Bdo 2024/2025

Feedback/Suggestion

I've always wanted to try black desert but I've never actually gotten into the game. Should I bother trying to play it in 2024/2025 and if so what are some tips and tricks to help me and what classes would you suggest?

You will find here on Reddit tons of bored vet players (and me too) waiting for something else to do in late game other than grinding in circle without purpose, but Bdo is actually the most beautiful mmo you can play and if you start the game you will have a nice journey. For tips and classes, check out some youtube channels like biceptimusprime or bluesquadron. Nobody can tell you what class to play but you could find some advices about which one you can test.

I definitely agree on biceptimus. However i wouldnt recommend bluesquadron. Being critical of something you love is fine but when he spreads negativity around and it starts to seep in every nook and cranny and the life of others, its become too much.

If you are able to grind for no reason, you will enjoy the game. If you don't like grinding and want more meaningful content, play something else.

BDO is the most fun you can have if you are starting out. Just don't expect to get the best gear and the best everything straight away. Having said that, now with the many iterations of seasons mechanics you can get BOSS gear pretty easily and takes roughly 1 to 2 weeks of casual play.

I was active on EU when the game came out, but moved to US servers in 2021. I wish I could get the same fresh experience from the perspective of the new player, in my mind that is the best part of MMOs. That feeling of starting out and exploring and meeting new people, showing off your new found abilities and collecting those first PEN gears, it feels very rewarding and give you such a dopamine rush that can be very addicting. In fact that is what is lacking in the non existing end game, that same level of freshness, exploration, and excitement.

You will make good friends, have great fun, and there are tons of life skills and activities to explore. The novelty of playing a new game like BDO should at the very least last you a few months to a few years, depending on whether you like the combat system, the grind and the feel of the game. If you end up hating it in the first 2 days, it's not a big deal since it's cheap as chips for a new player. You only really start to invest in cosmetics and QoL items later down the road, when you get that free BOSS gear and start more challenging content.

Good luck to you!

In bdo ur never too late and to be honest

A lot of free stuff is always given out

It doesn't hurt to try it instead of asking people about bdo I mean the game has been out for 10 years right so obviously it's doing something right! Compare to other games that can't even last more then 2 years

Just want to give advice for the bitterness of the past few months We have been having ppl complain and moan about the game cuz ppl can't seem to put the mouse down playing bdo and I wouldn't be shock how much mental problems ppl having doing so

In terms of pvp side pa has gone out their way to fix a lot of the exploiting of old systems aka open pvp and ppl are mad about it let alone sige and node wars pretty much just old and boring

Bdo is about to be released in China and part of the pvp changes is due to China having pa change the pvp system

The most important thing is that its a game for a buck. And therefore it has a lot of content to enjoy. Try to really enjoy by not opting to be the best
