What's a good voice recording app for practice purposes?

Advice

Disclaimer: I plan on using this for practice purposes, not for professional recordings for clients. My studio is not in my house so I need something more easy access to practice with.

For those out there who use a voice recorder app on their phones, which one do you use? What do you like about it?

Just use the original one that comes with your phone.

Voice Record Pro is my go to when I have to do phone records. Lots of options, file formats, sample rates, editing, etc.

I use the 4th one, because the quality is much sharper and clearer, but that's just my experience.

Even though you said you're not gonna use it professionally, i recomend the same, still. It's pretty good for practices or for just fucking around.

I'm going to assume you are on android, but the stock apple app is pretty solid, especially paired with a quality usbc mic and decent surroundings.

I've used it in a pinch when studio recording isn't an option and the audio was fine.

I got pretty good use out of the second one, but I admittedly haven't tried any of the others
