Cooking/recipe website used by Italians?

Could anyone recommend a website used in Italy for pasta recipes? It's okay if it's in Italian, I can use Google Chrome to translate. I am looking for some authentic recipes. Grazie mille!

Cucchiaio.it best of.

Don't use chrome for translate use Reverso, work better.

My go-to is cucchiaio.it, so far every recipe has been a consistent success.

I used to like giallozafferano but noticed a decline years ago and gave up on it. Maybe I was too drastic.

This is the most reliable and trustworthy: cucchiaio.it When I need to cook something "technical" I use this one.

This is the most used: Giallo Zafferano

This is good too: Fatto in casa da Benedetta These two websites are good for basic recipes.

This is the website of one of the most important cooking magazine in Italy. La cucina italiana. When I have guests for dinner I take a look here, since it has many "posh" recipes.
